

LET'S DRAW A GORILLA!

Follow these easy instructions and with a bit of practice you'll soon be a whizz at drawing gorillas!

STEP 1

To begin, draw three overlapping circles – these will be your gorilla's body.

STEP 2

Draw two small circles beneath and connect them to the larger circles. This process of circles and lines will eventually lead to a great gorilla drawing!

STEP 3

Your gorilla will need long front arms. So draw another circle and connect it with lines to start making the first one. Then add two smaller circles to the back legs. Use your rubber to erase some of the lines passing through.

STEP 4

Draw an oval for your gorilla's face. Now add a line that curves over it, to make the back of its neck and top of its head. Rub out the lines you don't need in its front arm.

STEP 5

Draw a half-moon shape next to the face – this will be a shoulder! Now draw a small circle connected with lines to the front arm.

STEP 6

Draw a line down from the shoulder to meet the front arm in a v-shape. There's your second arm! Now draw your gorilla's back feet. They're a bit like human hands.

STEP 7

Make the outline of your gorilla's face, and connect its face to the top of its head with curved lines. Draw its front hand, then rub out any lines you no longer need. Now draw your gorilla's mouth, nose and eyes so that he's looking straight at you!

STEP 8

Finish your drawing off by giving your gorilla a furry outline. If you have a felt tip pen, you could do this over the outline of your picture then rub out all the pencil lines. Or why not colour your gorilla in black?
