

A vibrant, stylized illustration of Europe. The background features a light blue sky with a large, faint outline of the European continent. In the foreground, a green landscape contains several iconic European landmarks: the Leaning Tower of Pisa on the left, a red-roofed cathedral with a golden dome, the Eiffel Tower in the center, and the Colosseum on the right. The scene is filled with white clouds, a bright yellow sun in the top right, and several airplanes flying across the sky. A large, semi-transparent white circle is overlaid on the right side of the image.
